FARM LABOR CONTRACTOR LICENSING

State law requires farm labor contractors in Idaho to be licensed.

If you are a farmer who uses a licensed farm labor contractor, you will NOT be a joint employer of the farm labor contractor's employees. Under this state law, the farm labor contractor will remain their sole employer and be solely responsible for the payment of their wages.

All persons performing farm labor contractor activities on behalf of migrant and seasonal farm workers in Idaho must:

- Be licensed by the state and pay an annual licensing fee.
- Post a surety bond to cover unpaid wages.
- Carry auto insurance for all vehicles used in the farm labor contracting business.
- Carry workers' compensation coverage for all employees.
- Provide all employees at the time of hiring full disclosure of the conditions of employment.

FARM LABOR CONTRACTOR LICENSING GUIDELINES

WHO MUST APPLY?

Any person who is paid or is promised to be paid, for recruiting, soliciting, hiring, employing, furnishing or transporting any migrant or seasonal agricultural worker.

EXEMPTIONS FROM LICENSING REQUIREMENT

1. Agricultural associations engaged in farm labor contracting activities exclusively for members of their association.
2. Individuals engaged in farm labor contracting for an agricultural operation owned or operated exclusively by such individual or a member of such individual's immediate family, if such activities are performed only for such operation and exclusively by such individual, but without regard to whether such individual has incorporated or otherwise organized for business purposes.
3. Agricultural employers exchanging agricultural labor or services with each other, provided the work is performed on land owned or leased by the agricultural employers.
4. Any common carrier that would be a farm labor contractor solely because it is engaged in transporting any migrant or seasonal agricultural worker. For purposes of this section, a common carrier is one that holds itself out to the general public to engage in transportation of passengers for hire, whether over regular or irregular routes, and holds a valid certificate or authorization for such purpose from an appropriate local, state or federal agency.
5. Nonprofit charitable organizations and public entities or private nonprofit educational institutions.
6. The employees of persons described above when performing farm labor contracting activities exclusively for such employer, unless the employee receives a commission or fee based upon the number of workers recruited.

LICENSE FEE - $250.00 annually
